About the Theme

IATE (Indian Association of Teacher Educators) is concerned about teacher educators and teacher education programs. We are witnessing various changes in teacher education policies, functions of teacher education programs, and the regulatory bodies of teacher education like NCTE, RCI, and Universities. Teacher education programs are aligning according to the directives of NEP 2020 therefore, teacher education programs are reshaping. Our NEP 2020 are emphasizing on ITEP and the issues institutions face when such programs allow multiple entry and exit of students and subsequently upcoming challenges regarding the maintenance of the relevance of the Master in Teacher Education program since the four-year ITEP allows direct entry to the Ph.D. program. We need to highlight the significance of our glorious traditional Teacher education system. Nowadays, demand according NPST and its global perspective of the use of present-day technology in the form of Artificial intelligence and its role in up skilling future educators. We know that India is very big country and therefore teacher education programs in ODL mode needed and to discuss about the prevailing demands and concerns. At present there is a lot of advocacy for inclusive education but teacher education programs for inclusive education have not been made. So here we need to understand and prepare stage-wise modalities regarding Teacher Education Programs for Inclusive Education. NCTE is conducting B.Ed. programs in various forms. They have many stage-wise programs like foundation, preparatory, middle, and secondary in 4 years and 2 years B.Ed. Program. In Physical education, the B.P.Ed. Program is also prepared for 4 years and 2 years. In addition to this program, Yoga teacher education program will be launched by NCTE very soon. RCI is already running a special teacher program simultaneously with support from NCTE but whether the role of RCI as stakeholders in policies and recruitment are really important?

Keeping the relevance of brief description, our theme and specific areas of sub-themes are appropriately covered.
